

Terms and Conditions of Use of the MFLaw StapA Website

1. Acceptance of the Terms

By accessing the MFLaw StapA website www.mflaw.it (hereinafter, the “Site”), the user fully accepts these Terms and Conditions of Use (hereinafter, the “Terms”). If the user does not intend to accept even one of the provisions contained herein, the user is invited to refrain from using the Site.

2. Informative Purpose of the Site

The content published on the Site is the exclusive property of MFLaw StapA (hereinafter, the “Company”) and is provided for informational purposes only. The information contained therein does not constitute, under any circumstances, legal opinions or professional advice, nor can it be considered a substitute for personalized assistance. The Company is available to provide legal advice through the official contact channels indicated on the Site, within the limits of its areas of activity.

3. Exclusion of Liability

The Company disclaims all responsibility for improper, arbitrary, or non-compliant use with the informative purposes of the material on the Site, as well as for any errors, inaccuracies, omissions, or differing interpretations compared to doctrine or jurisprudence, including prevailing ones. Similarly, the Company is not liable for damages arising from access or inability to access the Site, nor from any malfunctions, viruses, interruptions, or other prejudicial technical elements that may be present in the content or servers used.

4. Intellectual Property Rights

All content present on the Site – including texts, logos, images, graphics, videos, software, and any other element, in any format – (hereinafter, the “Content”) is protected under Italian and European Union legislation on copyright, trademarks, and intellectual property. The user is prohibited from copying, reproducing, modifying, distributing, transmitting, displaying, publishing, or using the Content in any form without the prior written consent of the Company.

5. Permitted Use of the Site

The user undertakes to use the Site in compliance with these Terms, applicable law, and the principles of fairness, diligence, and good faith. Any non-compliant, harmful, or fraudulent use will be prosecuted according to law.

6. Links to Third-Party Sites

The Site may contain hypertext links to websites operated by third parties. These links are provided solely to facilitate the user's navigation and do not imply any control, verification, or approval by the Company. Access to these sites is under the sole responsibility of the user, who is required to verify their terms of use and privacy policies.

7. Applicable Law and Jurisdiction

These Terms are governed by Italian law. For any dispute relating to the interpretation, validity, effectiveness, or execution of these Terms and, more generally, to the use of the Site, the Court of Rome shall have exclusive jurisdiction.

8. Contacts

For any request, report, or clarification regarding these Terms and Conditions or, more generally, the Site, the user can contact the Company using the contact details provided in the “Contacts” section of the Site itself.